

Encore Capital Group, Inc. Prices Private Placement of Convertible Senior Notes

June 19, 2013 5:19 PM ET

SAN DIEGO, June 19, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- Encore Capital Group, Inc. (NASDAQ: ECPG) (the "Company") yesterday priced $150,000,000 aggregate principal amount of 3.00% convertible senior notes due 2020 (the "notes") to be sold to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The notes will be fully and unconditionally guaranteed on a senior unsecured basis by Midland Credit Management, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. The size of the offering was increased from the previously announced aggregate principal amount of $110,000,000. In connection with the offering, the Company has granted the initial purchasers an option to purchase up to an additional $22,500,000 aggregate principal amount of such notes to cover sales in excess thereof.

The notes will be senior unsecured obligations of the Company. The notes will bear interest at a rate of 3.00% per year payable semiannually in arrears on January 1 and July 1 of each year, beginning on January 1, 2014. The notes will be convertible, if certain conditions are met, into cash, shares of the Company's common stock or a combination of cash and shares of the Company's common stock, at the Company's election. The conversion rate for the notes will initially be 21.8718 shares per $1,000 principal amount, which is equivalent to an initial conversion price of approximately $45.72 per share of common stock. The initial conversion price of the notes represents a premium of approximately 30% to the $35.17 per share closing price of the Company's common stock on June 18, 2013. The sale of the notes is expected to close on June 24, 2013, subject to customary closing conditions.

In connection with the pricing of the notes, the Company entered into capped call transactions with one or more of the initial purchasers (or their affiliates) and/or one or more other financial institutions (the "option counterparties"). The capped call transactions are expected generally to reduce the potential dilution and/or offset the cash payments the Company is required to make in excess of the principal amount upon conversion of the notes in the event that the market price of the Company's common stock is greater than the strike price of the capped call transactions (which initially corresponds to the initial conversion price of the notes and is subject to certain adjustments under the terms of the capped call transactions), with such reduction and/or offset subject to a cap based on the cap price of the capped call transactions. The cap price of the capped call transactions will initially be $61.5475 per share, which represents a premium of approximately 75% over the last reported sale price of the Company's common stock on June 18, 2013, and is subject to certain adjustments under the terms of the capped call transactions. If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional notes, the Company expects to enter into additional capped call transactions with the option counterparties.

The Company has been advised by the option counterparties that in connection with establishing their initial hedge of the capped call transactions, the option counterparties or their respective affiliates expect to enter into various derivative transactions with respect to the Company's common stock and/or purchase shares of the Company's common stock in privately negotiated transactions and/or open market transactions concurrently with or shortly after the pricing of the notes. This activity could increase (or reduce the size of any decrease in) the market price of the Company's common stock or the notes at that time.

In addition, the Company has been advised by the option counterparties that the option counterparties or their respective affiliates may modify their hedge positions by entering into or unwinding various derivative transactions with respect to the Company's common stock and/or purchasing or selling the Company's common stock in secondary market transactions following the pricing of the notes and prior to the maturity of the notes (and are likely to do so during any observation period related to a conversion of the notes). This activity could also cause or avoid an increase or a decrease in the market price of the Company's common stock or the notes, which could affect the ability of noteholders to convert the notes and, to the extent the activity occurs during any observation period related to a conversion of the notes, it could affect the amount and value of the consideration that noteholders will receive upon conversion of the notes.

The Company estimates that the net proceeds from the offering will be approximately $144.9 million, after deducting the initial purchasers' discounts and commissions and the estimated offering expenses payable by it (assuming no exercise of the initial purchasers' option to purchase additional notes). The Company intends to use

- approximately $15.8 million of the net proceeds from this offering to pay the cost of the capped call transactions and
- the remainder of the net proceeds from this offering to pay a portion of the purchase price for the acquisition of a controlling interest in an indirect holding company of Cabot Credit Management Limited (the "Cabot Acquisition").

If the Cabot Acquisition does not close, the Company will use the remaining net proceeds for general corporate purposes.

If the initial purchasers exercise their option to purchase additional notes, the Company may enter into additional capped call transactions. The Company intends to use the resulting additional proceeds of the sale of the additional notes

- to pay the cost of entering into additional capped call transactions and
- for general corporate purposes.

The notes, the shares of the Company's common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes, if any, and the capped call transactions have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction and may not be offered or sold in the United States absent registration or an applicable exemption from registration requirements.

This press release is being issued pursuant to Rule 135c under the Securities Act and does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy securities. Any offer of the securities will be made only by means of a private offering memorandum.
